The fund underperformed due to strong rallies in cyclical and consumer discretionary where we are underweight. Performance was held back by more defensive names which trod water such as testing companies SGS and Bureau Veritas, publisher Relx and large pharmaceuticals Novartis and Roche. Bright spots were seen in those reporting strong third-quarter results such as reseller SoftwareOne and microchip-maker Infineon. Novo Nordisk advanced on strong results and as its new obesity drug Wegovy supply becomes more available. In terms of transactions, we disposed of Wolters Kluwer having performed strongly, leaving the group on a premium valuation, on overly optimistic expectations of both growth and margin progression, in our view. We disposed of our residual position in adidas after a well-regarded new CEO was announced and the shares jumped significantly. We started a new position in Teleperformance after the shares were over-sold on uncertainty over content moderation for social media platforms and employee treatment; the group has comprehensively addressed these issues.
