The CRUX Asia ex-Japan fund outperformed the MSCI Asia ex-Japan index this month. The main positive contributors to fund performance were Consumer Discretionary, Information Technology, and Consumer Staples sectors. Chinese new energy auto manufacturer Li Auto, Korean precision laser equipment manufacturer EO Technics and Chinese on-demand delivery company Dada Nexus were our top contributors. The main negative contributors came from the Energy, Industrials and Financials sectors. The largest detractors to our performance were Asia Pacific oil & gas producer Jadestone Energy, Taiwanese semiconductor socket manufacturer Lotes, and Chinese industrial robot maker Estun Automation. Our underweight in the large internet benchmark names Tencent and Alibaba also detracted from performance. Over the month, we reduced our exposure to the materials and consumer discretionary sectors, and increased our weighting in technology hardware names.
